the art of breakfast

BECAUSE STARTING THE DAY WELL ISN'T SIMPLY ABOUT WHAT'S SERVED, IT'S ABOUT CREATING SPACE FOR A RITUAL WORTH RETURNING TO.

The modern morning ritual begins long before the first email or to-do list. In a culture increasingly focused on wellbeing, breakfast has become more than a meal; it's a daily act of self-care. A moment to pause, reset and nourish both body and mind before the pace of the day takes hold. Thoughtfully chosen ceramics can help transform this everyday routine into something altogether more considered. From the perfectly proportioned mug that cradles your morning coffee to elegant platters designed for leisurely breakfasts and freshly prepared favourites, these pieces elevate the experience of slow living.

RITUALS

Beautifully crafted and designed to be enjoyed daily, our breakfast collection celebrates the art of mindful mornings. Layered patterns, uplifting colour and tactile finishes bring joy to the table, encouraging consumers to savor not only what they eat, but the ritual of preparation itself. Whether it's a quiet weekday breakfast or a relaxed weekend brunch, these are the pieces that turn everyday moments into meaningful ones.

“From first coffee to weekend brunch, beautiful ceramics make every morning feel more considered.”

Once thought of as a purely practical piece, the butter dish takes center stage as one of the most coveted accessories in the modern kitchen. Equal parts functional and decorative, it transforms an everyday staple, taking pride of place on countertops and breakfast tables alike. Today's butter dishes are designed to be seen, bringing personality to the kitchen while turning even the simplest morning spread into a stylish affair. Balancing beauty and practicality, a butter dish is the kind of everyday luxury that feels both useful and indulgent, making them the perfect gift that will be reached for daily and admired for years to come.

THE EDIT

SLEEP: the new luxury

In 2026, WELLNESS is becoming less about optimisation and more about RESTORATION.

The pursuit of perfect metrics is giving way to something softer: intuitive habits, mindful rituals and a renewed appreciation for the simple pleasures that help us slow down. From the rise of sleep tourism to a growing focus on emotional balance, consumers are embracing rituals that signal the transition from busy days to restful nights.

To sleep well during the dark winter evenings, transition into rest by dimming harsh lights and switching off screens 60–90 minutes before bed, emptying your mind by journaling before sleep. Focus on warming the core body temperature with a bath, sipping herbal tea in your favourite mug, and pre-heating your bed with a hot water bottle to create a comforting, sleep-ready environment.

As the final act, an eye mask offers a welcome retreat from the outside world, helping to block ambient light and create the conditions for deeper, more restorative sleep. Together, these everyday essentials form a modern sleep ritual; thoughtful, comforting and beautifully considered. In a culture increasingly focused on doing less rather than more, they represent a new kind of luxury: the simple art of switching off.

flower POWER:

Maximalism takes a softer turn this season, blending the exuberance of the Flower Power era with a distinctly modern femininity. Bold blooms, expressive pattern clashes and joyfully saturated colour palettes create a look that feels confident, optimistic and unapologetically decorative. Rich pink, vibrant orange and uplifting green bring energy to this nostalgic trend.

FORECAST

colour focus: BURGUNDY & POWDER BLUE

This season, powder blue & burgundy come together to create a colour story that feels both DIRECTIONAL and COMMERCIALLY RELEVANT.

Caroline Gardner Design Director Nicola Breen explains why these shades are set to resonate with customers in 2026.

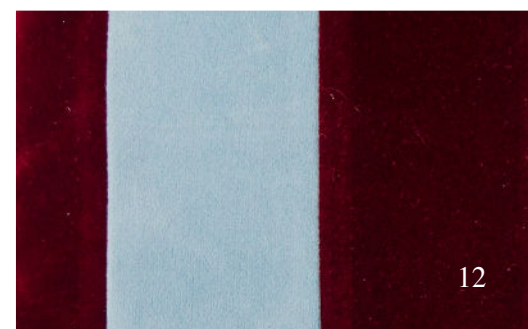

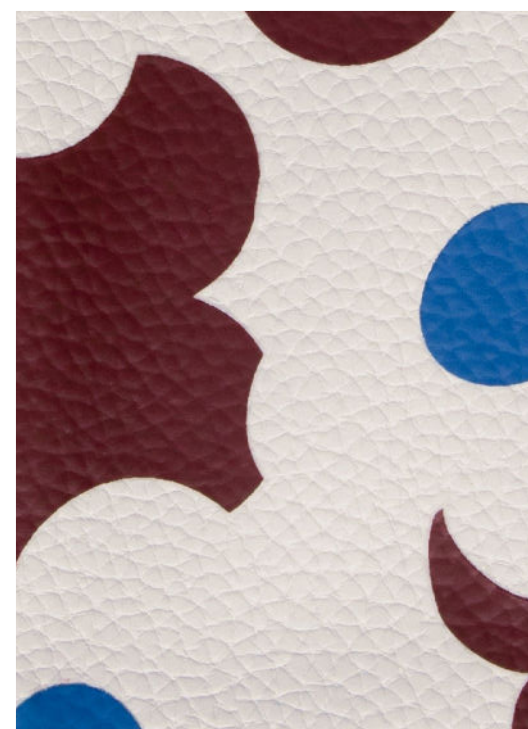

If there's one colour to back for 2026, it's burgundy. Seen everywhere from fashion runways to interiors, this rich, sophisticated shade has emerged as a defining colour of the season. With its deep red base and subtle brown undertones, burgundy offers a sense of confidence, warmth and longevity that feels particularly relevant right now.

What makes burgundy so appealing is its versatility. It brings the depth of a jewel tone while functioning almost as a modern neutral, pairing effortlessly across product categories and seasons.

As consumers continue to seek pieces that feel enduring rather than disposable, burgundy strikes the perfect balance between timelessness and trend appeal.

Alongside it, powder blue continues its rise as one of the most important shades in the colour landscape. A fresher, softer alternative to navy, it delivers a clean, contemporary feel that works year-round. While inherently calming, today's powder blue feels anything but delicate. Styled with burgundy, chocolate brown and vibrant pink accents, it becomes modern, confident and unexpectedly impactful.

Together, these shades create a palette that feels fashion-led yet highly wearable, offering retailers a colour story that is both trend-driven and commercially proven, with broad appeal across gifting, accessories and everyday lifestyle categories.

ROLL UP, ROLL UP...

This season, stripes are set to take center stage.

Bold, joyful and impossible to ignore, Circus-core taps into fashion's growing appetite for expressive colour and unapologetic personality. Inspired by the playful spectacle of the big top, this trend transforms everyday essentials into statement pieces, bringing a sense of fun, optimism and individuality to accessories and statement gifting.

Rich velvet wash bags, cosmetic cases and jewellery boxes are elevated through vibrant stripes that feel both nostalgic and refreshingly modern. Meanwhile, striped cotton-covered notebooks and velvet pencil cases bring the trend into stationery, proving that practical products can still deliver a strong style statement.

As consumers continue to seek products that inject joy into daily rituals, stripes remain one of the most commercially resilient patterns across both fashion and lifestyle categories. Their broad appeal, combined with a confident use of colour, results in pieces that feel trend-led yet enduring.

The result is a collection that celebrates self-expression in its most wearable form; optimistic and full of character. Whether displayed as a coordinated story or selected as standout individual pieces, these circus-inspired stripes will command the spotlight on any display.

A fresh edit of TRAVEL SOLUTIONS lead the way in the latest gardner collection by iconic British brand, CAROLINE GARDNER.

Packing cubes create instant organisation, while the new shoe bag keeps everything from football boots to brogues neatly separated from clothing. The Weekend Bag is reimagined in recycled poly-cotton, with bold graphic striped webbing straps that feel modern and sporty. Travel grooming gets an upgrade too; tactile sporty weaves trimmed with colour-pop cord pullers and a more refined leather-look pebble option in sleek, slimmer profiles.

Heritage-inspired patterns continue across tech cases, wallets and keyrings, making quick work of pairing functional upgrades with everyday essentials. Think laptop sleeves that look sharp at the office, streamlined card holders that pocket perfectly and notebooks worth showing off in meetings. Designed for the man who knows what he likes and enjoys a little polish to the practical, the collection is thoughtful, grown-up and ready for the road.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

1. Carriage/Minimum order value

UK Mainland Orders: Carriage will be charged £10.00 for all orders under £200.

UK Islands & Highlands: Carriage will be charged at £15 for all orders, unless carriage paid of £350 is achieved.

Northern Ireland: Carriage will be charged at £15 for all orders, unless carriage paid of £350 is achieved.

EU/Rest of the World & Channel Islands: Carriage will be charged according to the shipping destination and size of shipment. All export orders must achieve a minimum order value of £300 per order.

2. Credit Terms

UK: Pro-forma invoice will be issued for the first order, thereafter a credit period of 30 days from date of invoice will apply, subject to prior application (including provision of company reg number or UTR and VAT number if applicable) and subsequent approval.

Once approval has been agreed an initial credit limit of £500 will be applied to your account, should further credit be required please request this in writing.

Successful credit checks and sufficient trade references are required with credit applications above £500.

3. Overdue Debt

An interest charge of 2% of the outstanding invoice value per month or part thereof from the date of invoice will be levied on any accounts remaining unpaid beyond the due date.

If we have made reasonable attempt to contact the customer regarding an overdue invoice and the debt remains unpaid at 60 days after the due date, then we will be required to submit such accounts to our debt recovery agents for legal action to aid with the debt collection. On such occasion, any fees incurred in the collection of the debt will be chargeable to the debtor.

If a customer fails to pay on time to the terms of your account (30 days) on repeat or their account is dormant for a minimum of 6 months the account will revert to a proforma account, if we continue to supply the account.

3a. Overpayments/Credit on account

A fee of £25 may be applied for processing return of funds for overpayments or credit balances on account.

3b. Processing cheque payments

A fee of £25 will be applied for processing cheque payments. Our preferred method of payment include:

> BACS

> Card not present payments over the telephone

4. Prices

The prices or charges specified on the price list are related to the cost of manufacturing, obtaining and paying for
